

IOWA COLLOQUIUM ON INFORMATION COMPLEXITY AND LOGIC

SUMMER RESEARCH CONFERENCE AT DRAKE UNIVERSITY

JUNE 3-4, 2025

DES MOINES, IA

ICICL, the Iowa Colloquium on Information, Complexity, and Logic, a research colloquium run jointly by researchers at Drake University and Iowa State University, will be hosting the third of three NSF-funded summer conferences on June 3-4, 2025.

This year we have three invited speakers:

- Sunil Karn, Southern Illinois University
- Josiah Lopez-Wild, UC Irvine
- Katherine Kosaian, University of Iowa

We will also feature talks from local ICICL participants: Joe Clanin (ISU), James Hanson (ISU), Andrei Migunov (Drake), Matthew Rayman (ISU), Kristin-Yvonne Rozier (ISU), Constantin Slutsky (ISU), and Benjamin Valpey (Drake).

Individuals interested in attending can register by May 30, 2025 at: bit.ly/icicl-src-2025 (There is no registration fee.)

Please direct questions to: christopher.porter@drake.edu

Conference Website: <https://icicl.wp.drake.edu/conf>

Organizing Committee:

Adam Case, Drake University
Jack Lutz, Iowa State University
Andrei Migunov, Drake University
Chris Porter, Drake University

